

Henry Van den Berg

Business Consultant, President

Hailing from the Netherlands, Henry has a medical degree from the University of Utrecht and a Master's of Business Administration from Erasmus University in Rotterdam.

After specializing in surgery, he entered a trainee program with Procter & Gamble Pharmaceutical via the marketing track to general management. He worked for 4.5 years in the Netherlands/Belgium subsidiary, for 5 years in Italy (Florence and Rome), and then in London for the European Pharma Business. In 1999, he moved to the USA for global responsibilities and retired from P&G in 2009.

He later joined a small pharmaceutical start-up, grew the company from $10M to $180M, sold 80% of the company in 2020, and made a new start with the remaining product. After turning this company around, Henry passed the management on to the younger generation so he could coach and mentor—which are his passions. He serves on a few boards of companies and is working on another start-up.

Henry and his wife, Ria, have 6 adult children who live throughout Europe and the USA. He loves playing tennis, reading, and traveling.
