

Rachel Jayvanth

Dean of Student Development

Rachel is the Dean of Student Development at United International Business School in Bangalore, India.

She has extensive experience in academics, focusing on student development. Her background includes organizing curricula, collaborating with professionals, and supporting education both inside and outside of the classroom.

She is committed to helping students realize their potential and develop leadership skills. Previously, she served as an English Faculty member, Assistant Professor, and Head of Student Development at CMR University.

She is married to Anthony, and they have two daughters.