

Patrick Bowen

Financial Services Executive,
Leadership Speaker, Writer

Patrick is a Senior Executive in the Financial Services Industry. During his 23-year career, he has held positions in Sales, Distribution, Marketing, Recruiting, Management, and Strategic Planning. In his current role within Legal & General, Patrick serves as Senior Vice President, Distribution. He has authored multiple articles for financial services publications and speaks regularly to various audiences. He currently serves on the Board of the NAILBA Charitable Foundation.

Patrick earned his bachelor's degree in Communications from the University of Georgia in Athens, Georgia, USA.

Patrick and his wife, Lori, have a son and a daughter who are both teenagers. His interests include coaching, distance running, American football, reading, and serving in his community.