

Rodney Swope

Leadership Lecturer, Economist/Educator

Rodney is a professor of Economics and Business at both the University of Cincinnati Blue Ash College and Indiana Wesleyan University. He is also the Founder of BIB LIFE Academy, an entrepreneurial training and advocacy fellowship. He is passionate about Biblical Justice and Economic Inclusion. As a former corporate buyer, small business owner, and trusted advisor to fast-growth firms, he is a seasoned coach and advocate.

Rodney is a compassionate, enterprising, and forward-thinking leader, biblical economist, strategist, educator, communicator, and arranger using connectedness with a bias for action. He has proven results in economic inclusion, building non-profits, creating lasting value in and between enterprises via negotiated supply partnerships, joint ventures, and social enterprises. He is a profitable investor of time and talent in developing people and teams and is a trusted advisor and coach to many successful business owners across several industries.

Rodney is a Ph.D. candidate in Economics & Biblical Studies at the Union Institute in Cincinnati and holds an MBA from the University of Michigan Graduate School of Business and a Bachelor of Science in Computer Science and Math from Western Michigan University.
