

Ron Touby

Leadership Coach, Consultant, Facilitator

Ron has spent 28 years working in organizational and leadership development roles, mostly in the social sector. During his career, he has led divisions and participated on executive teams as a Chief Financial Officer, Vice President, and Interim President. His work on 6 continents (including one full year in Australia) has often focused on facilitating and executing strategy.

Currently based in Cincinnati, Ohio, Ron devotes his energies toward coaching business leaders, consulting with small- and medium-sized companies, and facilitating strategic planning and team building initiatives with executive teams. He holds certifications in leadership coaching and facilitation. He has a passion for holistic mentoring of leadership peers to help them maximize their opportunities professionally and personally.

Ron is married to Jacquie (since 1987) and has three adult daughters. He earned a bachelor's in Business (Human Resource Management specialization) in 1987 and a master's in Religion in 2003. His interests include reading, following sports, and playing both golf and tennis.
