

Steve Doub

Leader, Executive, Public Affairs Director

Steve is Director of Public Affairs for the United States Air Force Research Laboratory in Dayton, Ohio. He directs all strategic public relations communications and marketing for the laboratory, which has 12,000 people and a budget of $6.7B annually. The lab conducts all science and technology research for the U.S. Air Force and U.S. Space Force. Steve served 20 years as an Air Force officer before retiring in 2009 as a Lieutenant Colonel. Throughout his career, both on active duty and as a civilian, he has led teams of varying sizes, instructed Air Force officer trainees, and taught leadership and management at Miami University, Ohio.

Steve earned a Bachelor of Arts in Telecommunications from Indiana University, Bloomington, Indiana; a Master of Arts in Management from American Military University, Charles Town, Virginia; and a Master of Arts in Christian Ministry Leadership from Liberty University, Lynchburg, Virginia.

Married since 1988, Steve and his wife, Shellie, live in Cincinnati, Ohio. They have five sons, two dogs, and a cat. His interests include marathoning, biking, hiking, photography, and reading. He enjoys mentoring, leadership development, teambuilding, and serving others. He also enjoys volunteering with various service organizations.