

Carrie Park

Controller

Carrie is the Controller at University of Wisconsin Foundation where she oversees a team responsible for more than $350m in philanthropic revenue, the administration and compliance of a $4B endowment, and an operating budget of $50m.

She began her career in 1998 as a CPA within public accounting firms and then later moved into the family wealth management sector where she managed a complex portfolio of ultra-high-net-worth individuals and families. In 2007, Carrie moved into the non-profit sector after a decade in public and private accounting where she was the Director of Finance/Treasurer and Planned Giving at a Foundation in Dallas, Texas.

She holds a bachelor's degree in Accounting and Business Administration from DeVry Institute of Technology.

She lives in Middleton, WI with her husband and 5 children and enjoys reading, needleworking and enjoying nature.
