

Gregory Yurchak

Director

Greg has a diverse background spanning more than four decades in various industries, including pharmaceuticals, industrial pharmacy, private equity, and consulting. He has consistently excelled in leadership roles, driving operational excellence and spearheading business transformations. Greg's tenure in the pharmaceutical sector saw him manage operations, engineering, and logistics, while his private equity experience involved a pharmaceutical startup. His consulting work focused on enhancing business processes and fostering leadership development.

Having led five major business transformations across multiple industries and geographic locations, Greg consistently achieved increased associate engagement, significant process improvements, and substantial bottom-line results. With a bachelor's degree in Chemistry and a minor in Mathematics, he also holds a Lean Six Sigma Black Belt.

He and his wife, Deb, live in Cincinnati, Ohio, and have eight children. His interests include reading, cycling, learning to play the guitar, and keeping up with his children and grandchildren.
