

Gurpreet Singh

Director

With more than 25 years of experience in marketing and sales, Gurpreet started his career as a salesperson at a small company and steadily progressed to managing substantial teams. His career spans various industries, including consumer products, pharmaceuticals, lubricants, chemicals, and medical implants.

He now leads Global Professionals a company that offers marketing services to a global clientele, serving businesses from micro-enterprises to small and medium-sized companies.

Gurpreet is a dedicated family man who enjoys spending time with his wife and two children. His hobbies include road trips and the occasional game of squash, which he finds a great way to unwind and stay active.

