Owner, Founder, Professional Engineer

Jason is an experienced patent attorney, manager, and professional engineer with diverse technical experience. He founded, owns, and oversees all aspects of Moore Intellectual Property Law in Austin, Texas, where he leads a team of attorneys and support staff focused on patent preparation and prosecution.

Previously, Jason spent 14 years at Toler Law Group, where he rose to Principal Attorney—overseeing the patent preparation and prosecution side of the business, including docket management, training and mentorship, strategic planning, and quality review, while maintaining a hands-on caseload of domestic and international patent work. Earlier in his career, he worked as an engineer at Motorola and served in the United States Air Force.

He holds a Juris Doctorate, a master's in Engineering Management, and a bachelor's in Chemical Engineering—all from The University of Texas Austin. He also holds a master's degree from Talbot School of Theology.

Jason enjoys volunteering, mentoring, traveling, and spending time with family and friends. His favorite respite is scuba diving.
