

Leslie Samara

Corporate Education Executive, DISC Master Trainer

Leslie is founder and owner of Cornerstone Education Group, a leader in sales enablement through customized learning experiences. She has helped many luxury goods clients reach their goals. Her clients have included Christian Louboutin, L'Oréal, Remy Cointreau, Yves Saint Laurent, and Laura Mercier. Cornerstone Education Group offers leading-edge corporate solutions in mobile learning development, sales training and the customer experience, presentation/public speaking skills, and train-the-trainer workshops.

A Certified Human Behavior Consultant and Master Trainer in the DISC Model of Human Behavior, Leslie also holds certifications in artistry, e-learning development, communication, management, and facilitation skills training. She earned her Bachelor of Fine Arts degree from the University of Nebraska.

Previously, she held national and global positions in corporate education with Lancaster, Estee Lauder, and L'Oréal groups.

In addition to meeting people and helping them achieve their goals, Leslie and her husband, Lou, enjoy traveling, reading, hiking, watching football, and anything to do with snow.
