

Naveen Raj K

Human Resources

Naveen is Global Head of Human Resources at Mitra Innovation and has extensive experience partnering with business leaders to drive growth through strategic people initiatives. His career spans the IT, ITES, and telecommunications sectors, where he has led people strategies that align talent, leadership, and culture with business objectives.

As a trusted advisor to senior executives, Naveen has played a key role in organizational transformation, leadership development, talent strategy, and building high-performing, inclusive workplace cultures. His expertise lies in helping organizations navigate change, strengthen leadership capability, and create people-centric environments that deliver sustainable business outcomes.

He lives in Bangalore, India, with his wife, Bindu Thomas. He enjoys traveling and listening to music.