

Vladimir Jikhar

Founder, CEO, Interpreter, Trainer, Author

Born and raised in Tashkent, Uzbekistan, Vladimir is founder and CEO of Tashkent Business Club, a 1,000-member organization which provides training in personal and professional development. As a professional interpreter (English to Russian), he has worked with the United Nations, US Embassies, Global Leadership Summit, Synergy Global Forum, and the governments of Uzbekistan & Kazakhstan.

Vladimir is also a partner, investor, trainer, and coach in GrowyLTD, an online training platform that offers courses, coaching, and support for personal and professional development. He has authored courses on Networking and Decision Making and has the highest client satisfaction rate among the organization's speakers.

In addition, he has spoken in 20 countries as an expert on Central Asian politics, economics, culture, and religion. His expertise comes from leading and working in and with NGOs for 20 years.

He has studied in Uzbekistan, Ukraine, the United States, and Israel. He is married to Mariya.

